LINEAR POSTCANCEL ROOT-STYLES ILLUSTRATED   Jan. 1, 2019

Regardless of Family (the whole number digit of a cancel Type) the town and state appear as one of the following illustrations.
The first two digits following the decimal point identify the cancel by number of lines of text, capitalization, state abbreviation, and whether the letters are serif (Roman) or sans-serif (Gothic).

Note that there are three basic "horizontal" groups in this chart, defined by the number of lines of text: 1, 2, or 3.

Regarding the first digit after the decimal point, each group has three rows of styles, each defined by the same text options, as follows.
   All .1 .4 .7 styles (8 types each) have all capital letters
   All .2 .5 .8 styles have upper and lower case letters, not including single letter initials in 2 word state abbr. (ie: N.Y.)
   All .3 .6 .9 styles have Town in upper and lower case, and STATE in all capital letters. With * see Type No. Key

Regarding the second digit, reading down in the chart, the eight columns of styles, below, adhere to these descriptive headings.
(---------------------------------serif town-------------------------------------) (---------------------------sans-serif town--)
(---------serif state-------------------) (-------------------------sans-serif state-------------------------------------) (-------serif state------------------)

.01 = full state .02 = state abbr .03 = full state .04 = state abbr .05 = full state .06 = state abbr .07 = full state .08 = state abbr
   Note that the second digit is odd if the State is spelled out in full, and an even number if the St. is abbreviated.
